- 7.13. The Parties agree that the requirements for proper packaging in the industry of parcel transportation are of paramount importance and that they must be complied with extremely accurately. The Parties understand and confirm that proper packaging of a Parcel is largely related to its successful delivery to the addressee, therefore, both Parties must assume and assume the risk for the actions that depend on their will to protect the Parcels from any unforeseen objective obstacles that might occur during transportation, such as a car accident, breakdown of a vehicle, potholes on the road, etc. to the maximum degree possible.
